At the time of filing a formal complaint, a complainant must be participating in or attempting to participate in the education program or activity of the school with which the formal complaint is filed.

After receiving a formal complaint, the Title IX Coordinator will:

- Will treat complainants and respondents equitably by providing remedies to a complainant where a determination of responsibility for sexual harassment has been made against the respondent. The remedies will be designed to restore or preserve equal access to the school's education program or activity.
- Will perform an objective evaluation of all evidence. Credibility determinations will not be based on a person's status as a complainant, respondent, or witness. The objective evaluation will have 1) impartial consideration of available evidence 2) No prejudgment of parties, witnesses, facts at issue, or how facts at issue are presented 3) will have no deference to recommendations of an investigator.
- Xenon will ensure that all parties involved in the process (Coordinators, Investigators and Adjudicators) will be free from conflict of interest. Xenon will ensure that all parties involved in the process be trained on conducting an investigation and grievance process including hearings, appeals, and informal resolutions. They will be trained on serving impartially, including by avoiding prejudgment of the facts at issue, conflicts of interest, and bias.
- Xenon's formal complaint process includes the presumption of innocence of the respondent. The Title IX Coordinator will interact with both the complainant and respondent in an impartial manner throughout the grievance process without prejudgment of the facts at issue, and without drawing inferences about credibility based on a party's status as a complainant or respondent.
- The process will have reasonably prompt timeframes for resolution.
- Sanctions and Remedies will be designed to restore or preserve equal access to the school's education program or activity when possible.
- The standard of evidence Xenon will use on all formal complaints is preponderance of the evidence.
- Appeals may be granted on the following bases 1) a procedural irregularity that affected the outcome 2) new evidence that was not reasonably available at the time the determination or dismissal was made and could affect the outcome 3) the Title IX Coordinator, investigator, or adjudicator had a conflict of interest or bias that affected the outcome of the matter.
- Xenon will have supportive measures available as applicable. They may include but not limited to: 1) extensions of deadlines or other course-related adjustments 2) modifications of class schedules 3) mutual restrictions on contact between the parties 4) Leaves of absence 5) list of professional counseling services (list included in this packet).
- We will not require, allow, rely upon, or otherwise use questions or evidence that constitute, or seek disclosure of, information projected under a legally recognized privilege, unless the person holding such privilege has waived the privilege. Examples include: Attorney-Client; Priest-Penitent; Doctor-Patient; Spousal.

Notice of Allegations

Upon receipt of a formal complaint, Xenon will provide written notice to both parties that includes:

- Discussion of the formal complaint process, including any informal resolution option.
- Sufficiently detailed statement of allegations-this will identify both parties, if known, the conduct allegedly constituting sexual harassment, and the date and location of the alleged incident, if known.
- Statement that the respondent is presumed innocent and that a determination of responsibility is made at the conclusion of the process.

Confidentiality

Xenon will keep confidential the identity of any individual who has made a report or complaint of any form of prohibited sex discrimination, including any reporter, complainant, respondent, or witness, except:

- As may be permitted by FERPA
- Or as required by law
- To carry out the Title IX regulations, including the conduct of any investigation, hearing, or judicial proceeding arising thereunder.

Access to Evidence

Throughout the investigation Xenon will afford both parties equal opportunity to review and inspect any evidence that 1) was obtained as part of the investigation 2) is directly related to the allegations.

Prior to issuing an investigative report Xenon will send both parties all evidence subject to inspection and review and afford at least 10 days to submit a written response.

10 days prior to hearing or other determination Xenon will send investigative report to parties for review and written response. Xenon will make all evidence available to parties and afford equal opportunity to review, including for purposes of cross-examination.

Informal Resolution

Xenon cannot require a student or employee to waive the right to an investigation and adjudication of formal complaints under Title IX. However, at any time prior to reaching a final determination, Xenon may facilitate an informal resolution that does not involve a full investigation and adjudication, provided that the school:

- Provides the parties a written notice disclosing 1) the allegations, 2) the requirements of the informal resolution process 3) the circumstances under which it precludes the parties from resuming a formal complaint arising from the same facts, and 3) any other consequences of participating in the informal resolution process 4) the records that will be maintained or could be shared
- Obtains the parties' voluntary, written consent to the informal resolution.
- An informal resolution is not available to resolve allegations that an employee sexually harassed a student.
- At any time prior to agreeing to a resolution, any party has the right to withdraw from the informal resolution and resume the formal complaint process.

Dismissal of Formal Complaint

A formal complaint of sexual harassment under Title IX will be dismissed if:

- Would not constitute sexual harassment even if proved
- Did not occur in the school's education program or activity
- Did not occur against a person in the United States

A formal complaint of sexual harassment under Title IX may be dismissed if:

- A complainant notifies the Title IX Coordinator in writing that they would like to withdraw
- The respondent is no longer enrolled or employed by the school
- Specific circumstances prevent the school from gathering sufficient evidence to reach a determination

In the event of a required or optional dismissal, Xenon will promptly and simultaneously send written notice to both parties.

Title IX Hearings

In the event that an informal resolution cannot be made, a live hearing will be held. During any aspect of the formal complaint process, each party may have an advisor of their choice present. This advisor may or may not be an attorney. During the live hearing, each party's advisor is permitted to cross-examine the other party and any witnesses. The complainant or the respondent are not allowed to cross-examine the other party or their witnesses. The adjudicator must determine whether the cross-examination questions are relevant, and explain any decision to exclude a question as not relevant.

Title IX Determinations

At the conclusion of the hearing and after deliberation, Xenon will simultaneously notify each party in writing of the outcome of the hearing. This will include any action taken by the school for either party. It will include how Xenon came to the conclusion.

A determination becomes final either:

- 1) On the date on which an appeal would no longer be considered timely; or
- 2) If an appeal is filed, on the date that the school provides the parties with written appeal determination.

Appealing a Title IX Determination

Appeals may be granted on the following bases 1) a procedural irregularity that affected the outcome 2) new evidence that was not reasonably available at the time the determination or dismissal was made and could affect the outcome 3) the Title IX Coordinator, investigator, or adjudicator had a conflict of interest or bias that affected the outcome of the matter.

- Appeals must be submitted in writing to the Title IX Coordinator within 10 days of the Determination. The appeal can be submitted by either party.
- Xenon will appoint an appeal officer if either party decided to appeal the Determination.
